

Andreas Aumüller is New President of the Federation of European National Collection Associations

Berlin, October 2, 2013 – Andreas Aumüller is the new President of the Federation of European National Collection Associations (FENCA). The members' general meeting of the European collection umbrella organization elected the 59-year-old entrepreneur at their annual congress in Taormina, Italy, on Saturday. Aumüller, who is also board member at the Federal Association of German Collection Agencies (Bundesverband Deutscher Inkasso-Unternehmen, BDIU), was formerly the treasurer on the FENCA board, the executive committee of the European collection industry.

The new Vice President of FENCA is Peter Wallwork from Great Britain. Ivo Klimeš from the Czech Republic was confirmed in his position as General Secretary. The successor of Andreas Aumüller in his role as treasurer is Piotr Badowski from Poland, who is already a member of the FENCA board. The Austrian Walter Koch was appointed a new member and is now responsible for special tasks.

FENCA, which celebrated its 20th anniversary this year, represents the interests of collection agencies in Belgium, Bulgaria, Germany, France, Greece, Great Britain, Italy, Croatia, the Netherlands, Austria, Poland, Romania, Russia, Sweden, Switzerland, Slovakia, Spain, the Czech Republic and the Ukraine.

About Andreas Aumüller

FENCA President Andreas Aumüller has more than three decades of experience in the collection business. He has been partner of the Creditreform Nürnberg Aumüller KG since 1981, together with his brother, as well as the Creditreform Regensburg Aumüller KG. Shortly after the Fall of the Wall, Creditreform Dresden Aumüller KG was in spring of 1990 one of the first companies to be founded in the former GDR that carried out its economic activities in the new federal Länder.

Andreas Aumüller is a committed European. He is Honorary Consul of the Italian Republic in Dresden, and supports charitable cultural projects as the treasurer of the Yehudi Menuhin Live Music Now e.V.
